Welcoming Our New Intern Hala Shabaita!

Hi! My name is Hala Shabaita and I'm a summer intern here at Isuroon. I'm a Political Science major at Carleton College and will be starting my final year of undergrad in the Fall! In the future I hope to go into legal and advocacy work in the social impact field, and that is why working with Isuroon has been wonderful so far. I get to explore different departments and get to know people better especially due to the easy access to everybody here!

Statement from The CEO

ISUROON
STRONG WOMEN, STRONG COMMUNITIES

Inna lillahi wa inna ilayhi raji'un.

It is with deep sorrow to hear about the tragic loss of five Muslim sisters who were victims of reckless driving. Our thoughts, heartfelt condolences and prayers are with their families, friends, and the entire Muslim community during this difficult time.

May the memories of these sisters be a source of inspiration and a reminder of their beautiful lives, filled with love, faith, and compassion. We believe in the Qadr (divine destiny), but we also recognize the pain and sorrow that such incidents bring. It is crucial to remember that Islam teaches us to respond to adversity with patience, unity, and resilience. Through the power of faith, let us find solace and seek healing, knowing that Allah is the source of ultimate comfort and will guide us through these trying times.

We stand against all forms of lawlessness on the roads, working together to create a world where pedestrians can feel safe and valued.

May Allah grant the departed sisters Jannah (paradise) and grant their families and loved ones the strength to endure this immense grief.

May their memories be cherished and serve as a reminder of the inherent goodness in humanity. And may we all strive to honor their lives by fostering love, compassion, and unity in our communities.
